

Do you work in care?

Would you like to support people to connect meaningfully with others?

Connecting with others in ways that are meaningful to the individual is vital to everyone's emotional, mental and physical health and wellbeing.

The Care Inspectorate and SSSC have developed a series of Open Badges related to different aspects of meaningful connection.

The badges, which are linked to a series of webinars and factsheets, provide an opportunity for staff to develop, reflect upon and evidence their commitment to supporting people to connect with others in the ways that are right for them. They can also help staff to evidence their Continuous Professional Learning.

The badges are primarily geared to staff working in care homes for adults and older people, but will also be of interest to those working in other services.
